Nostalgia is a weird feeling.

I tend to think that most Linux users have spent many years with Windows before switching to Linux, and this ? in many cases ? leaves them with a nostalgia to the look and feel of Windows operating systems, such as Windows XP, 7 and 10. There are also people who never want to hear about Windows or see its face ever again.

For those of you from the first category, luckily, you can easily turn your Linux installation into the look & feel of Windows, thanks to the B00merang Project.
