Partners play a critical role in Red Hat's efforts to drive innovation with enterprise open source technology. From OEMs to global systems integrators to cloud and service providers, Red Hat's extensive partner ecosystem helps customers around the world achieve success and IT modernization. We appreciate our partners and look forward to showcasing their innovative work at the first-ever Red Hat Summit Virtual Experience, a free, immersive multi-day event.

If you're a partner participating in Red Hat Summit, you won't want to miss any of the action. Here are a few insider tips and tricks to help you navigate our newly virtual event.

- What a License Track! [5]

This year we had a great set of licensing related talks, and I'd like to discuss them all in this post.

Monday morning started with Frank Karlitschek and his talk Why the GPL is great for business. This a great overview of how you can build an free and open source business ? pros and cons and pitfalls to avoid.
