Weekly Roundup

September

This has been a great week, starting with the release of the Firefox 92 web browser and continuing with the latest HPLIP printer and scanner drivers with support for Linux Mint 20.2 ?Uma? and Red Hat Enterprise Linux 8.4 operating systems, as well as a major Steam Client update for Linux gamers.

The KDE Project released a new maintenance update to their KDE Frameworks software suite for KDE Plasma users, and sysadmins now have a new version of the Finnix live system to play with, based on Debian GNU/Linux 11 ?Bullseye.?
