I keep getting asked about Google's ?distribution of Ubuntu?, so perhaps this is a good place for me to say that as far as I'm aware there is absolutely no truth to the rumour that Google plans to distribute a derivative of Ubuntu as a Google OS. As exciting as that may be for Linux, it wouldn't make sense for Google, and so far they've been pretty sensible about their projects.

Google uses lots of Linux internally, I imagine they also have their own versions of Red Hat, SUSE, Debian, perhaps even Gentoo and of course Ubuntu.
