

Which is the best Linux distro?

By srlinuxx

Created 16/11/2012 - 9:44pm

Submitted by srlinuxx on Friday 16th of November 2012 09:44:40 PM Filed under Linux [1]

To the average mainstream Windows user, Linux can be an unusual and sometimes frightening prospect. So for this feature we've taken an unusual approach.

In keeping with the open source Linux philosophy, the reviews you'll find within are part-based on our first ever PC Pro wiki, to which numerous readers kindly contributed over a period of six weeks. The results combine our own testing and analysis with real-world community experience for an all-round view.

The aim of this feature is unusual, too, as we're not looking to identify a winner. The whole point of Linux distros is that each is aimed at a particular type of user, so what's perfect for one person may be anathema to another. Our goal is simply to help find the right distribution for you.

rest here [2]

Linux

Source URL: <http://www.tuxmachines.org/node/58936>

Links:

[1] <http://www.tuxmachines.org/taxonomy/term/63>

[2] <http://www.pcpro.co.uk/features/378145/which-is-the-best-linux-distro>