With GNOME 3.7.90, we've entered the feature freeze and focus on polish and on whittling down the blocker list (don't expect all of these to be fixed, the list currently still contains a mixture of actual blockers and nice-to-have things).

But just before that, there was a mighty effort to get things landed. All that happened while I was travelling, so here is a somewhat late tour of new things that have appeared recently.
