The search for Google Reader alternatives is well underway ? for those who do not have one already. This follows from Google?s latest announcement that the service will be shut down after July 1, 2013.

If you are in search of an alternative for Google Reader, this article offers a list to choose from. They have been listed under three categories ? Desktop, Self-hosted, and Web service. Three are under each category, and are the ones I?ve either used in the past, or have read about.
