Today We're going to discuss sudo and su, the very important and mostly used commands in Linux. It is very important for a Linux user to understand these two to increase security and prevent unexpected things that a user may have to go through. Firstly we will see what these commands do then we'll know the difference between both of them. So let's get started.

Read on LinuxAndUbuntu [2]

Source URL: http://www.tuxmachines.org/node/72703

Links: